Maralyn Howes

Maralyn Howes was a devoted and committed member of St Thomas' Parish where she served on the Vestry, taught Sunday School, helped with the tea rota and supervised the Food Bank.

But most importantly Maralyn was a valued and much loved member of St Thomas' Bell Ringing Team which she served for over thirty years. During that time her legacy is her warm kindness in taking young bell ringers under her wing, and it was lovely to see a representation of them at the Thanksgiving Service for her life.

When we think of Maralyn we think 'smile' because that is what we always saw. Even in the months of her illness she remained cheerful and accepting of what was to come. Canon Fielding at the service summed it up perfectly.

"She fought the good fight and kept the faith"
