St Mary's, Doneraile P51 K379.
It's just across the river from the bottom of the high street. (The church at the top, also St Mary's, is RC and has no bells.)
Plenty of parking.
There is a loo at the back of the church.
Bells can be left up.
No clock hammers.
The tower light switch is the bottom-left one on the board in the church entrance.
The best place for coffee is the Town House, a little way up the high street.

In the event of no one being there to meet visitors, a key is obtainable at the Centra mini-supermarket at the top of the high street, just ask at the checkout. Just inside the church next to the tower door is a cupboard; inside is another cupboard, and the tower key hangs from its sloping ceiling.

Sam Maguire Community Bells, St. Mary's Church, Main St, Dunmanway P47 Y997.
Free street parking is usually available outside the Church and in the car park at the rear of SuperValu shop, about 50 yards away.
The Teapot Cafe, Mirabelle's, The Parkway Hotel and Wild Garlic (see wildgarlic.ie for opening times) all do refreshments.
Tea/coffee will be available in church at short break times.
This is an 8-bell tower. Bells will be up and locked away.
There will be somebody present with key to open church door and show how to unlock bells and close floor.
Toilet facilities at rear of Church. Key toilet on noticeboard entrance hall.

Parking is in the adjacent free car park however on Saturday morning there is a very good Farmer's Market and the car park has very reduced parking availability. You can park in the Churchyard, please close gates behind you as you enter and leave. The gates have a chain wrapped around them you can unwind it - it may looked locked but it isn't. Likewise the adjoining pedestrian side gate has an equally ridiculous security system! Parking in the car park behind Fields/Supervalue supermarket P81 DT82, 100 yards up the road, is probably an easier bet.

Entrance to the ringing room is via an external spiral staircase at the rear of the Church. The key to the padlock at the bottom of the staircase is in a jam-jar behind the green wooden shed The key to the tower door is in another jam-jar tucked behind the drain pipe at the top of the stairs. The key is for the top lock - the bottom lock is not used. Please replace keys as you leave.

You can leave the bells up or down - there is a chain with an appropriate sign on it - please put it across the door as you leave.

There are toilets in the adjacent Church Hall and the key is hanging in the ringing room. There is a key pad and the code is 4321, you need to insert the code and unlock the door almost at the same time

There are umpteen opportunities for dining and coffee in Skibbereen. Annie Mays opposite the church gates is good for food, lunches; soup and sandwiches; coffee it's a bar too. Tell them you are the bell- ringers. The Church Restaurant adjacent to the Church was a Methodist Church at one time, food is excellent. Further up the Main Street there are more coffee shops, cafes etc. Supervalue supermarket has a good cafe with light lunches. Not everywhere will be open on Sunday.

There is some free parking on the church grounds and there is paid parking in Ballymodan Place adjacent to the church (free on Sunday) or some free street parking a short walk away. Bells are to be left up other than the tenor which should be left down after practice on Sunday. There is a chiming hammer on the tenor which can be released when the bell is down.

Tea/coffee will be available in church at short break times.
There is a toilet in the church behind the choir gallery on the left - code is bottom, middle, top.

Access to tower will be facilitated by one of the local ringers who will be waiting to meet you

There are umpteen café's, restaurants and bars in the Main Street and also the Riverview Shopping Centre

St Finbarre's Cathedral, Bishop Street, Cork City. T12 K710
Parking: On the streets around the Cathedral - no discs or permits needed on Sundays. It is possible to park in the forecourt of the Cathedral although there is a slight possibility of getting blocked in.

Cafes: Proby's Kitchen do lunches etc. and are very near the Cathedral on Proby's Quay. Soma in Tuckey St. is good for coffee and cakes, a short walk away. Badger and Dodo or Alchemy, both on Barrack St, are nearby and have good coffee.

Toilet: There is one in the Cathedral and one at No. 9, Dean St. where we will have a cup of tea after the ringing for those who are interested.

Access to the ringing chamber is from the door at the base of the north tower, the one on the left as you enter from the main gate. The door code is 135.
